Strange Combinations

One of our Missouri exchanges says that the "war has certainly brought around some curious changes in political circles in Missouri For instance, we notice that Nap Giddings, who "used to was" one of the most intense pro-slavery State rights men in the State, is one of the committee appointed by the Radical State Convention to visit Washington and lay before the President the grievances of the Radicals of Missouri Dr Peabody, who traveled around with Governer Stewart, and acted as his private Secretary in his canvass with Major Rollins for the gubernatorial chair, and whose special business it was to make it appear that Stewart was intensely pro slavery and Rollins unsound on the negro question, is another member of the aforesaid visitant committee—right alongside of Gov. Stewart himself, who is appointed to represent Buchanan county on the committee The former pro slaveryite, C D Drake of St Louis, heads the committee" And so the article goes on to name several others, formerly claiming to be intensely conservative who are now trying to lead and jump far ahead of the Radicals. Nor is this the case in Missouri alone We have on this coast numerous instances of the same political transformation and conversion Who, four years ago would have imagined it possible that A G Henry, as thoroughly a red mouthed loco foco, as any in the State, would be appointed to a responsible office under a Republican Administration? And we may safely add, who now believes that his pretended devotion to the Union cause, has any foundation stronger or more enduring than his tenure of office? What is true in his case, however we have very good reason to believe is not in that of the large majority of loyal Democrats, who have spoken good words and done good and faithful deeds in behalf of the Government For them, we feel high respect and with them we are proud to labor We only regret that in doing so, we are necessarily compelled now and then to come in conflict with persons like the one mentioned, who seem to imagine that, because of the official position which by accident, bargain or mystery they have managed to occupy, they have a right to dictate in all things, and who get mad and abusive when anybody measures and fairly expses their real consequence

The Pacific Railroad —According to a letter published in the Bulletin, there is likely to be an animated controversy between rival corporations for the vast privileges given by the Government in aid of the magnificent scheme of sending the iron horse across the continent We hope, however, that in the strife which, it is probable will grow up, we shall not lose the road, we believe the company alluded to below is financially the strongest, though if we recollect rightly, the Fremont concern got the start in time It is stated that "the books of the Union Pacific Railway have been closed, the subscriptions amounting to $2,400,000, being $400 000 over the amount required by the act of Congress as a preliminary from those who desired to take advantage of that act A meeting of the stockholders was held to day for the election of directors Immediately upon the election, the company will proceed upon the construction of the road, making the Mississippi and Missouri road the commencement of the route. The list of subscribers to the stock includes the names of many of our most wealthy men, as also the name of Brigham Young Surveying parties are to be sent out at once. Of course this company intend to claim their right to build this road against the pretensions of the Hallett Fremont corporation, which, it is said, have not as yet raised any tangible funds, while they (the Union Company) have paid into the hands of the treasurer the whole of the amount required by the act of Congress"

Battle of Chicamauga —The New York Times' report that General Rosecrans fled ingloriously from the field at the battle of Chicamauga, and subsequently stupefied with opium, is believed by few There is something mysterious about the removal and the origin of the probable slanders The Cincinnati Commercial, a few days after the battle, published a very minute description of the battle, giving details and full particulars of incidents Is it not strange that its correspondent, if there was the least truth in the Times' report, should have written the following? The writer finds General Rosecrans at his headquarters and says of him

General Rosecrans shortly after emerged from the house. He was enveloped in a blue army overcoat his pantaloons stuffed in his boots and a light brown felt hat of uncertain shape, was drawn over his brow A cigar unlit, was held between his teeth and his mouth was compressed as if he were sharply biting it He stalked to a heap of embers where I was standing and stood a moment silently by my side An orderly brought a raw boned muscular, dappled grey horse to him and mounting it without a word, he rode down the lane toward the road, his staff clattering after him and, understanding his mood, perhaps as silent as himself

I knew, for I had seen Rosecrans often and under widely different circumstances, but he was filled with apprehensions for the issue of the day's fight I recognized a change instantly although I could hardly say in what it consisted Rosecrans usually brisk nervous pour ful of presence, and to see him silent [illegible] absorbed in what looked very much like gloomy contemplation filled me with indefinable dread Remember this was but for an instant, and when the leader thought he was entirely unobserved Rosecrans is too good a soldier to let his face reflect to his men either his hopes or his forebodings

Again in the concluding part of the Commercial's letter the writer says

A rumor came back to several of Rosecrans staff that he had just been seen leading a charge He was either missing or dead I heard it, and thought involuntarily of Libby prison

Rosecrans, with some of his staff and [illegible] himself under fire and endeavored to rally the ranks that had been shattered by the seemingly fatal attack on the left, but his heroic appeals were disregarded Mortal courage could not have rallied the men on the field Their ranks torn to pieces their flanks passed at pleasure by the cunning enemy, they fled But they fled as brave soldiers—without panic

This account falls far short of making the General a cowardly opium eater

Additional Eastern News

From the Sacramento Union we have the following additional news

Washington Oct 27 —Mutual exchange records of prisoners have been agreed upon by the proper authorities of the United States and Confederate Governments The necessary orders to surgeons in charge of hospitals where the rebel prisoners are confined have been issued Col Hoffman commanding the prisoners, has received one list from Richmond

Washington, Oct 26 —Advices from the front this morning substantiates the belief that the rebels have no desire to fight us this side of the Rapidan There have been skirmishes between the cavalry in which small portions of infantry participated but our lines now extend to the Rappahannock, and the army is quietly resting in its camps

There are rumors to-night of fighting going on at the front all day, but officers who left Gainesville at noon report all quiet The military authorities have no information of any engagement beyond mere picket skirmishing and are confident there is no very formidable infantry force of the enemy on the Rappahannock They believe the Army of the Potomac will be abundantly able to crush completely whatever there may be of Lee's force whenever a general engagement can be brought on

The day before yesterday Lieut Boyce, of the Fifth New York cavalry, was stationed on the Thoroughfare Gap road in the direction of Aldie for the purpose of ascertaining whether any of Mosby's guerrillas were in the vicinity Taking one man with him, he proceeded with great caution until he came upon a party of cavalry dressed in our uniform and numbering about a dozen, whom he supposed to be our men Upon his riding up they surrounded him, and ordered him to deliver up his arms Handing over his sword and revolver he stayed with them until they came up with another party, when the Lieutenant drew a revolver from his boot, shot three guerrillas, and with his orderly escaped The guerrillas fired on him, wounding him in five places, but not mortally

It turns out that the importance of the cavalry fight on Saturday on the Rappahannock has been greatly magnified It is the belief of nearly all the military men here that a considerable portion of Lee's army has crossed into Farquar and intended to lay the pontoons across the river in the vicinity of Rappahannock Station, to facilitate retreat when pressed His force consisted of a portion of his cavalry and an inconsiderable portion of his infantry which he threw north of the stream to support his cavalry

Boston Oct 27 —A Morris Island letter to the Herald says Two deserters from Charleston give gloomy accounts of affairs at Charleston and Savannah In the latter city the poor are starving They state that the turrets in Charleston harbor won't work. When the Ironsides was last in she went over one containing 200 pounds of powder, which failed to explode The rebels have two more infernal machines intended to destroy the Ironsides Some harbor obstructions, of barrels etc, have rotted, and are seen every few days floating out to sea We are assured that the Charleston city government is anxious to surrender the city, but Beauregard and the military will not allow it, and say they will burn the city first The entire rebel force is stated at 13,000 Most of Beauregard's forces went to reinforce Bragg A new battery has been erected on the ruins of Fort Sumter.

Cincinnati Oct. 27 —Gen Rosecrans said in his speech before the Merchants Exchange yesterday that it was his firm belief that if the forces recently sent to Chattanooga had been ordered there before as they ought to have been the backbone of the rebellion would have been broken

A Knoxville dispatch of October 25th, to the Gazette says An engagement occurred to-day which was a hot hand to hand affair of four hours The rebel force was estimated at 5 000, and their loss in killed wounded and prisoners is over 300 Wolford recaptured his wagon train and some of his men, but lost his battery Our loss was not over thirty

St Louis Oct 27 —A dispatch received at head quarters represents that all of Jo Shelby's force is beyond the boundary of the State, and that General McNeil had crossed Boston Mountains in pursuit of the fleeing rebels

Cape Race Oct 26 —The Canda from Liverpool Oct. 17th, and Queenstown Oct 18th, has arrived

Henry Ward Beecher made a forcible speech at Liverpool Oct 16th on American affairs before a densly crowded audience, without the anticipated riot. Fears were at one time entertained of a riot Southern sympathizers having placarded the town with bills calculated to effect this infamous purpose The address however, was disgracefully interrupted

Troubles had again broken out in India and also in New Zealand

The Poles had offered to form an alliance with Turkey to reconquer what had been lost by the Ottomans

San Francisco Oct. 27 —A dispatch to the Bee yesterday has the following

Ned Corbett will receive the appointment of Postal Agent, vice Henry Baker, removed

Fixing the Responsibility —The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune telegraphs the following under date of October 1st

The effort to throw the responsibility of the failure to reinforce General Rosecrans in season has proved abortive It is now well ascertained that General Halleck, although urged at the time from high quarters to order Burnside to join Rosecrans immediately after occupying Knoxville declined to do so, and only issued the order for failing to obey which Burnside was censured when it was too late

More Traveling Facilities —We observe that at a meeting in London the other day of the Bank of British Columbia the question was discussed of the establishment of the projected line of postal steamers from Panama to Victoria, to touch at San Francisco, and the opinion expressed that the measure would be realized at an early day

By Overland Telegraph.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to October 28.

Boston Oct 28 —The State Union League of Massachusetts has elected General Butler delegate at large to attend the National Union League, which meets in December In an address to the meeting Gen Butler believes the seceding States have annihilated themselves as States while the power of the General Government remains intact over their Government The policy of safety and justice require that a Union should be restored in the South only as fast as loyalty and principle are established over the rebel domain

Chicago, Oct. 28—11 a m —Reports from the Army of the Potomac in regard to skirmishing operations yesterday are as follows The 8th Illinois regiment of Buford's cavalry tried their skill with dismounted rebels at Boulton Station and were repulsed Buford then put in the remainder of that brigade but they were unequal to the task of forcing the rebels back Another cavalry brigade enabled Buford to drive them back We are unable to give the losses of either side to day

New York, Oct 28 —The Times' dispatch from the Army of the Potomac, 27th, says the enemy continues demonstrations in front Yesterday as the 6th and 9th New York cavalry were going out near Boulton Station to relieve the 4th New York and 6th Pennsylvania cavalry regiments on picket duty they were opened upon by the rebels with artillery A brisk skirmish ensued, lasting several hours, our forces falling back within one mile of Germantown The enemy showed nothing but infantry There were but few casualties on our side

The guerrillas are exceedingly bold their operations extending in every direction Every day they make some demonstration on our line of communication It is even unsafe for our men to venture outside of camp On Tuesday evening a gang of bushwhackers dashed upon one of our trains between Warrenton and New Baltimore and captured an ambulance and wagon train belonging to the Provost Marshal's Department

From other sources I learn that smoke from enemy's camp fires can be seen beyond Rappahannock, indicating that they are there in force and prepared to dispute our passage of the river Their cavalry pickets are thrown out this side of the Rappahannock, in sight of our advanced pickets

Gen Meade's headquarters are still at Warrenton

New York, Oct 28 —Tribune's dispatches dated Washington, 27th, says persons from the army to night report a column of rebel infantry which occupied 40 minutes in passing a given point It crossed the Rappahannock at Rappahannock Station Yesterday, about dark, the 5th corps was ordered to hold them in check if possible It is reported to day that our cavalry had been soundly whipped, also stated that the rebels are in force about Stafford Court House Nothing further has been heard from the reconnoisance of yesterday towards Waterloo Bridge Heavy and continued firing was heard to day at Bristol in the direction of Centreville, lasting too long for practice firing

A dispatch to the World says it is asserted on high authority that the removal of Gen Mead has been determined on, and will take place as soon as Government can settle on a proper successor

The artillery wagons captured by guerrilas near Washington, contained no property of value This is the second daring and successful raid during the present week almost in the heart of our camp It is not believed the rebels have pushed any very strong force this side of the Rappahannock Since their grand retreat, however, small bodies remain at the crossings A number of citizens residing along the Orange and Alexandria Railroad charged with harboring guerrillas have been arrested and brought to Washington

Leavenworth Oct 28 —Advices from Fort Smith Monday noon Oct 26, say the rebels under Cooper have been reinforced from Price's army and threaten Forts Blunt and Smith, Cooper's force is reported to be 9 000 strong, with 18 pieces of artillery Quantrell is with him Blunt goes to Fort Smith with a train, when he will turn over the command of the Army of the Frontier to Gen McNeil and proceed to Leavenworth McNeil and Ewing are in the vicinity of Bentonville and Huntsville, Arkansas Brooks with 3,000 rebels are marching on White river and has been joined by Shelby Blunt's train is escorted by a force of infantry, cavalry and artillery sufficiently strong to ensure its safety Blunt will offer Cooper battle if opportunity offers

New York Oct 26 —The correspondent of the Columbus, Ga, Enquirer gives the official report of the rebels killed wounded and missing at Chickamauga, at 17,999

Memphis, Oct 26 —A fight occurred between a body of 30 rebels and some Home Guards in the vicinity of Fort Pillow last week. The former were completely routed, losing three killed and 10 wounded Guerrillas are hovering around opposite this city, stopping planters who are bringing in cotton, and robbing those who are returning, of their money Steamers are still fired on South of here by guerrillas, little damage has been done

Cairo, Oct 28 —From the Memphis Bulletin we learn that McPherson's expedition has returned to Vicksburg having scattered the rebel forces At Big Black a large force of the enemy were met on the march but it retreated without a fight.

A Secesh Tartar —A correspondent writes from Culpepper to the New York Times as follows of a she secesh he met in old Virginia who is or was possessor of considerable property

Falling into her clutches one day and hearing her tale of woe I merely suggested that she might display the stars and stripes and beneath the folds of that banner her property would not be molested This was the signal for an outburst of furious indignation She would never raise the stars and stripes over her property not she rather die first Having raised the tre [illegible] a 200 pounder and weighing some forty pounds less than myself prudence dictated that discretion was the better part of valor and accordingly I gazed at the creature before me in silence Now this very discretion seemed to annoy her exceedingly and placing her arms akimbo she swelled up like the frog in the fable and finally doubtlessly feeling that the English language was not copious enough to do the subject justice she exclaimed "There sir—there's my barn yonder hay all stolen pigs all killed chickens gone boards off—and I can't get a safe guard from you mean Yankees!" I was transfixed —puzzled—and said nothing Her indignation continuing to rise she finally screamed out "I'll come up with ye—I'll come up with ye mean Yankees I'll go into the barn loft and burn the barn with myself in it!" I still remained silent and she ended after taking breath with the explodent Then where will ye—Yankees get boards from? Having nothing to say and fearing this original shrew might burn by spontaneous combustion while on my hands I left

Another Feet' Story —The Placerville Democrat tells of a minister in that town who lately assured his congregation from the pulpit that their church would soon be out of debt, as their Reese River stock was now worth ten dollars a foot, and by the grace of God it would soon be worth twenty dollars

Factory in Oregon City —We are told that a meeting of persons interested will be held to morrow afternoon at Oregon City for the purpose of thoroughly considering and we hope favorably deciding upon the work of using at that point, the immense water power which is so abundantly furnished for manufacturing purposes It must be so employed, at some day and why should those who have means hesitate as to its immediate use? It will be profitable of course and if so why delay for years and years the development of the magnificent resources given to Oregon? Has Portland no interest in this matter? It seems to us that our capitalists and merchants should regard the growing business of the Willamette valley, and especially the prosperity of a town so near to us as Oregon City all of which only expands and magnifies our own, with peculiar and friendly care Let it not be forgotten that every dollar expended to build up valuable and substantial improvements in the valley towns pays a handsome interest to Portland

Rebel Prisoners to be Used as Union Cavalry —About seven hundred of the ten thousand rebel prisoners at Fort Delaware have taken the oath of allegiance and Gen Schoepf the commander of the post is now organizing them into a cavalry regiment for the National service The General who has had an European experience and understands the nature of the bayonet or saber that is borne on both sides of a war does not admit into this regiment any prisoner who has property in the South, or a wife and family there Having thus excluded from this organization the elements of revolt, he finds in the simple-natured docile, easily satisfied Southern soldiers excellent material for a regiment. Four companies of these men are already attired in the true blue uniform and the General pointed them out with pride and satisfaction as they marched across the island to dress parade. The time has come—when it is not invidious to do justice to the good military qualities of the Southern soldier, and Gen Schoepf is not slow to predict a successful career to his novel regiment which the rebel ten thousand style "galvanized rebs" Hundreds of East Tennessee prisoners and deserters from the rebel army joined the National forces as soon as they could find a recruiting officer, and are to day doing most heroic and faithful service under the old flag —Louisville Journal

New Tillamook Packet —The schooner [illegible], Capt O H Spencer, arrived from below last evening, in tow of the steamer Cowlitz She is a bran new and snug little craft built at Tillamook by Messrs Quick & Thomas, of [illegible] tons carpenter's measurement, but with a carrying capacity equal to at least fifty tons She has spruce root knees, fir timbers, and white cedar plank and ceiling, put together in a workmanlike manner, with a keel but 43 feet in length, she has 16 feet beam, and two feet dead rise, so that she is admirably calculated to carry on the freighting business between this port, Tillamook, and intermediate points, dodging safely into shallow bays and harbors as her business or stress of weather may require Success to the packet enterprise

"Diorama Panorama" —The exhibition last evening was very fully attended and we judge from the frequent plaudits, was very satisfactory to the audience Although we [illegible] to evidences of finer artistic skill on canvas than was exhibited in some of the scenes, it is worth the money to see it, and those who have not kept thoroughly posted in the stirring events of the times it conveys much valuable and essential information in a nutshell An exhibition will be given for the greater convenience of schools and families, during this afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, when for those mentioned, the admission will be but half the usual rates Another exhibition will be given this evening

Bark Julia Cobb —This vessel, which owing to her great draught of water, and the present low stage of the river did not come up the Willamette on Saturday night, has been discharging a lot of stoves into the Julia, and will probably come up in tow of the steamer Wm H Couch, this evening

We understand that it is their intention to give a series of musical entertainments and soirees during the winter months, the series to be inaugurated by a grand ball for the benefit of the Sanitary Fund, of which due notice will be given to the public

Obstruction —A rather dangerous obstruction to pedestrians was left on the sidewalk of Washington street, between First and Second streets, last night, in the shape of half a cord of jagged wood In the absence of street lights, or any warning of the proximity of such an obstacle, a bill of damages might be presented to the violator of a city ordinance which a sale of the wood could not satisfy

Returned —His Excellency Governor A C Gibbs, who has spent the past few weeks in California, returned on the steamer last evening

Re-Opening of the Willamette Theatre —The grand re opening of the Willamette for the winter season is announced for Thursday evening when will be presented Shakespeare's great play of "Much ado about Nothing" with Mrs Julia Dean Hayne as "Beatrice"

Five Dollars an Hour —Such is the sum an acquaintance tells us he made last week in San Francisco by purchasing a new suit from Heuston Hastings & Co, the large Clothing firm of San Francisco And the best of it is that his suit fits to a charm is of fashionable style as well as good in workmanship We do not know a house we would more readily recommend than the above firm

Costiveness Cured.

..., Ohio, September 26th, 1858.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & Co.—Gents: I have been troubled with a torpid action of the bowels for six or seven years, which has been the cause of a great deal of suffering to me, and I had to deprive myself of many kinds of food, and used much oatmeal, etc., until I got Dr. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, and I find that they keep my bowels regular and I now eat anything that my family does. I most confidently recommend these Pills to those who are troubled with constipation of the bowels.

Rheumatism Cured—WILLIAMSTON, Vt, May 15, 1862.—MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & Co.—Dear Sirs: It is with great pleasure that I reply to your inquiry as to what effect your Panacea has had upon my long-standing complaint—Rheumatism. In March, 1861, I was confined to the house, and finally was obliged to keep my bed, suffering intensely from pain in the back and head, when, through the influence of a neighbor, I got a bottle of DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, which I used externally and internally, according to directions. Within twenty-four hours I was able to commence work, and in two days was completely cured! I have had several attacks of Rheumatism since, but a single trial of the PANACEA has always brought immediate relief.

Respectfully yours, JOHN B STAPLES.

I know the above to be a correct statement of facts.

The Enrollment

The Sacramento Union has the following in regard to the proposed action of the officers of the Government and the duty of citizens, and it s will deserve the consideration of loyal men every where, that we cannot do better than to copy it

The officers appointed for the several enrolling districts entered upon their duties last Tuesday They are to enroll the names of all male persons between the ages of twenty and forty five years The object of this measure has been misrepresented by disloyal politicians and journals, and in the minds of the ignorant the enrollment and the draft are so closely associated that one is supposed to necessarily follow the other, and hence the officers are likely to meet with occasional difficulties in the discharge of their duties Doubtless, whenever a draft of the sturdy men of the Golden State shall be ordered, her loyalty will not shrink from that supreme ordeal But a draft is not probable, unless a foreign war should menace us with invasion, and the able bodied man who would not fight in defense of California is not fit to live within her borders or to participate in her prosperity The enrollment has been ordered and carried out in most of the Western States, but no draft has followed, for the simple reason that no troops have been urgently required to fill up the Western armies Then why has the Government gone to the expense of collecting these lists of names? The answer to this question explains the purpose of the Enrollment Act The National Government must ascertain the strength upon which it may rely in these critical times, it must form an approximative estimate of the force it can summon to the field, in each State as well as in aggregate of the nation it must know how this force is distributed among the States, so that in making a levy for a particular emergency no injustice may be done to any State by improper apportionments Without the enrollment there could be no accurate calculation of the strength of that magnificent reserve from which our active armies are to be replenished; and should a draft become necessary at any time, complaints would be likely to arise as to the quota assigned to certain States. We have had estimates of the aggregate number of the militia, but these were made in peaceful times by State officers, without that care and attention which are necessary to produce trustworthy statistics and without that particular enrollment of names in each district which brings every male inhabitant of a military age under the eye and at the call of an imperiled Government The Enrollment Act offers a broad basis for the organization of a National Guard comprising the whole fighting strength of the nation, facilitates the levy of troops to meet emergencies, and secures us against an unequal distribution of the burdens of war

Now, as to the probability of a draft being ordered in this State It is certain that all the men required to prosecute the war in the East will be raised there When it was proposed to recruit a regiment of volunteers in California and to defray a portion of the expense by private contributions, the War Department declined to accede to the proposition; first, because of the additional expense of transportation, and second, because it was intimated that the men might be wanted in this Department Should a few regiments be required to strengthen the California Column for an expedition down the Rio Grande, a draft might be ordered to that extent provided the requisite number of volunteers were not promptly offered, but the population of the State would scarcely feel the effect of such a levy We think that as the Government has thus far treated California very tenderly, the first chance would be offered to volunteers If we are to have a foreign war, our adversary will be France, and the regiments called for will be mainly employed for the defense of our own State Should that emergency arise, a draft will doubtless be ordered and no good citizen will grumble if called upon to defend his own fireside

In any event, the burden of a draft under the provisions of the Enrollment Act would be lighter here than in any other State in the Union The number of men who possess the surplus three hundred dollars, or have the means of raising that amount of money, is greater here in proportion to the population than in any other State Our citizens who contributed so freely to the Sanitary Fund can easily raise a fund to pay for substitutes in cases of peculiar hardship, and will doubtless follow the Eastern example in that respect, should a heavy draft be ordered. Available substitutes, if there be a smart chance of actual fighting, may be found in all parts of the State. There are many men here who object to the monotony of camp life, but who are ready for active service, and will eagerly seize the opportunity to dare the dangers of the field. The three hundred dollars exemption clause of Enrollment Act—so fiercely denounced by Copperheads—was designed to keep down the price of substitutes. It saves the poor man of family from the tender mercies of the substitute brokers, and yet secures good fighting material by the offer of a liberal bounty. Strike out that clause and make it imperative that each drafted man shall go into the service or provide an acceptable substitute, and the competition for substitutes will raise the price to a thousand dollars, leaving the poor man no chance of getting relief from the rigor of the law. We conclude that there is no probability of an immediate ordering of a draft in California, that if one be ordered, it will be found to bear lightly upon our population, and to cause real hardship in but few instances, and, finally, that if a foreign war threatens us, the draft, which equalizes the burdens of defense, will be welcomed as the fairest and quickest mode of providing for the security of our homes

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland s German Bitters (purely vegetable), hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

Hoofland's German Bitters

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public, and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN
PHYSICIANS

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so use HOOFLAND S GERMAN BITTERS

From Rev J Newton Brown, D D, Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland s German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore, thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them

PHILADELPHIA June 23 1861 J NEWTON BROWN

PARTICULAR NOTICE

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard s life and death

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland s Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!
AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland s German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation s heroes, whose life to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland s German Bitters has saved my life There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years a member of Sherman s celebrated battery and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital This was followed by great debility heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron of Sixth below Arch Street advised me, as a forlorn hope to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now, thank God for it getting better Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months for, gentlemen I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr Malone, restored to life
